7.1.4 - Water conservation facilities:

The Central University of Karnataka has taken several measures on water conservation and sustainability such as roof water harvesting, rainwater harvesting tanks, and Sewage Treatment Plant (STP). Waste water is being recycled and reused, limiting water pollution. In addition, water recharge pits and watersheds have been constructed to conserve the water. As part of this initiative, following facilities/infrastructure have been created.

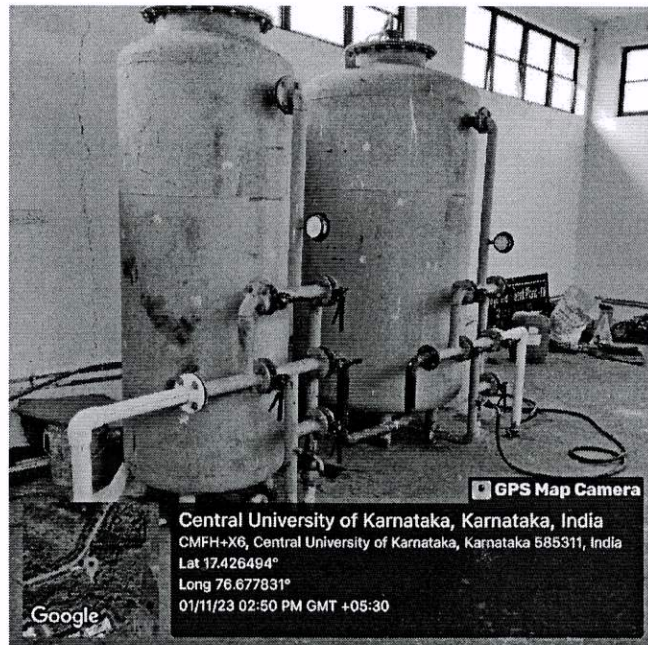

- Rain water pond of 1.20 Lakh cubic meters' capacity.
- Two sewage treatment plants of 200 KLD capacity each.
- All buildings are connected to the STPs. The discharged/treated wastewater is being used for irrigating garden and plantations on the campus.
- Water supply distribution system with
 - Underground sumps = 2 nos. of 2 L litre capacity
 - Underground sumps = 1 no. of 20 L litre capacity
 - O.H.T = 2 nos. of 2 L litre capacity
 - Source of water from Amarja Reservoir having W.T.P. with slow sand filtration method.
 - Rain water collection sumps; six sumps of 2 L litre capacity at different locations (in each school complex).
- Borewells: Total 26 bore wells are drilled out of which 4 bore well have an yield of 1.50” each. 7 bore wells are provided with re-charge pits at an estimated cost of Rs. 7.10 lakhs.
